

A non-profit organization whose mission is to offer a quality theater experience that will entertain, enrich, and educate people of all ages.

Who We Are

Livonia Community Theatre (formerly Paul's Players) was founded in 2011 by Patricia Hutchison, a retired music and drama teacher. In 2017, the group changed its name to Livonia Community Theater to reflect its commitment to the city of Livonia.

Our Community

LCT welcomes people from all walks of life. Our patrons, volunteers, and participants come from all over the Metro Detroit area and range in age from 7-77+.

What We Do

Our regular programming includes:

- Staged plays-one in the fall and one in the early spring
- Broadway Bound-a musical theater camp for middle school students
- Kids Camp-a staged mini-musical for elementary students that offers additional music activities such as African Drumming
- Summer Musical Workshop-alternates between large musicals casting up to 50 people of all ages, and smaller musicals for high school and college students
